The above discussion is provided for general information. For more specific information concerning water rights, please contact an attorney or write to this office. We have several pamphlets available. They include: (1) Statements of Water Diversion and Use, (2) Information Pertaining to Water Rights in California, and (3) Appropriation of Water in California.

Statements of Water Diversion and Use must be filed by riparian and pre-1914 appropriative water users as set forth in Water Code section 5100 with specific exceptions. The filing of a statement (1) provides a record of water use, (2) enables the State to notify such users if someone proposes a new appropriation upstream from their diversions, and (3) assists the State to determine if additional water is available for future appropriators.

An appropriative right is required for use of water on non-riparian land and for storage of water. Generally, appropriative rights may be exercised only when there is a surplus not needed by riparian water users. After the formation of the California Water Commission back on December 19, 1914, new appropriators have been required to obtain a permit and license from the State. Appropriative rights can be granted to waters "foreign" to the natural stream system.

Flows from use of groundwater, or other "foreign" water to the natural stream system.

A riparian right enables an owner of land bordering a natural lake or stream to take and use water on his riparian land. Riparian land must be in the same watershed as the water source and must never have been severed from the sources of supply by an intervening parcel without reservation of the riparian right to the severed parcel. Generally, a riparian water user must share the water supply with other riparian users. Riparian rights may be used to divert the natural flow of a stream but may not be used to store water for later use or to divert water which originates in a different watershed, water previously stored by others, return flows from use of groundwater, or other "foreign" water to the natural stream system.

GENERAL INFORMATION PERTAINING TO WATER RIGHTS IN CALIFORNIA There are two principal types of surface water rights in California. They are riparian and appropriative rights.

TO ALL WATER USERS FILING SUPPLEMENTAL STATEMENTS OF WATER DIVERSION AND USE 2008

Enclosed is your Supplemental Statement of Water Diversion and Use (Supplemental Statement) form for the years 2005, 2006, and 2007. All Supplemental Statements should be completed and postmarked no later than JULY 1, 2008 for delivery to the State Water Resources Control Board, Division of Water Rights (Division). California law requires the diverter to report the quantity of water diverted for each month in the Supplemental Statement. Changes in the name and address of the person diverting the water must be made on this Supplemental Statement so that the Division's database can be updated. Please review the information in the upper half of the enclosed Supplemental Statement(s) and make any corrections or additions in red (e.g. corrections to current ownership, address, phone number, agent, etc.).

A separate Statement of Water Diversion and Use (Statement) form is required for each point of diversion. If the location of the existing point of diversion has changed, as identified on the Supplemental Statement form, please identify the new location. However, if you have developed a new point of diversion or divert from a new surface water source, in addition to the existing point of diversion, a separate Statement is required to record the new diversion. The Statement form can be obtained from the Division's webpage at www.waterrights.ca.gov/Forms/DEFAULT.HTM#statement.

If you do not file a Supplemental Statement, your water diversion and use will be considered inactive and it will be recorded as such in the Division's database. This will prompt the Division to stop mailing you Supplemental Statements. If you wish to reactivate an inactive Statement in order to record a diversion and use of water, please contact the Division.

If you have questions or concerns regarding this matter, please contact Bill Rigby at (916) 341-5376 or at BRigby@waterboards.ca.gov.

Since 1914 new appropriators have been required to obtain a permit and license from the State.

Statements of water Diversion and Use must be filed by riparian and pre-1914 appropriative water users. The filing of a statement (1) provides a record of water use, (2) enables the State to notify such users if someone proposes a new appropriation upstream from their diversion, and (3) assists the State to determine if additional water is available for future appropriators.

The above discussion is provided for general information. For more specific information concerning water rights, please contact an attorney or write to this office. We have several pamphlets available. They include:

GENERAL INFORMATION PERTAINING TO WATER RIGHTS IN CALIFORNIA

There are two principal types of surface water rights in California. They are riparian and appropriative rights.

A riparian right enables an owner of land bordering a natural lake or stream to take and use water on his riparian land. Riparian land must be in the same watershed as the water source and must never have been severed from the source of supply by an intervening parcel without reservation of the riparian right to the severed parcel. Generally, a riparian water user must share the water supply with other riparian users. Riparian rights may be used to divert the natural flow of a stream but may not be used to store water for later use or to divert water which originates in a different watershed, or return flows from use of groundwater.

An appropriative right is required for use of water on nonriparian land and for storage of water. Generally, appropriative rights may be exercised only when there is a surplus not needed by riparian water users. Since 1914 new appropriators have been required to obtain a permit and license from the State.

Statements of Water Diversion and Use must be filed by riparian and pre-1914 appropriative water users. The filing of a statement (1) provides a record of water use, (2) enables the State to notify such users if someone proposes a new appropriation upstream from their diversion, and (3) assists the State to determine if additional water is available for future appropriators.
